Fri 28 May Today, fly from Horn Island to the Gove Peninsula on the west coast of the Gulf of Carpentaria within Arnhem Land. Nhulunbuy, meaning honey man in Yolngu language, has been home to the Yolngu people for over 40,000 years and came to international attention in the early 1960s when part of the land was excised for a bauxite mine. The development was strongly opposed by the Yolngu people at Yirrkala and the bark petition signed by the Yolngu people was sent to the Australian House of Representatives. It now hangs in Parliament House in Canberra. Enjoy lunch at a local restaurant before checking in to the hotel in the afternoon. Attend a talk by Geraldine and Liz before dinner at the hotel. B L D

Sat 29 May Today, visit Buku-Larrnggay Mulka, the Indigenous communitycontrolled art centre in Yirrkala. His vision of a Yolngu-owned business to sell Yolngu art that started with a shelter on a beach has now grown into a thriving business that exhibits and sells globally. The centre now consists of two divisions: the Yirrkala Art Centre, which represents Yolngu artists, and The Mulka Project, which acts as a digital production studio. This evening, celebrate the conclusion of the tour with a special farewell dinner with Geraldine, Liz and fellow tour members. B L D
